The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 2, 3, 5, 13-19, 23 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 3/11/03.

Note that claims 20, 21, 22 were cancelled by the previous amendment.

The rejection under 112 is withdrawn.

Claims 1, 4, 6-12, 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ishihara 4974725 in view of Bell 5672342 and Warberg 6337081.

Warberg shows fibrous carriers are known; the artisan would apply this knowledge in order to optimize odor retention. The rejection of record is maintained.

Applicant's arguments filed 2/10/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues no liquid animal product in Ishihara; but Bell is seen as providing the animal product instantly claimed; Bell's urine; functioning as attractant, or a suitable Ishihara active substance, applicable to Ishiharas granular carrier lines 46-50, of Ishihara. Although Bell merely collects urine, we read the whole Bell disclosures-The urine is to be used as an attractant-an odoriferous liquid animal product; since Bell doesn't tell us how, it is up to the artisan to know how to use the odoriferous liquid animal product urine of Bell-Ishihara provides the way. We also see the variable forms of Ishihara's carrier to be of a fibrous form, if desired, as exemplified by Warberg's odoriferous device.
